

BOSTON STRATEGIES INTERNATIONAL

Dear Camila,

The Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) has more active infrastructure projects per square km than any other spot on the planet. The peninsula is booming because of its wealth, youth, vision, ambition, resources, and harmonized economic policies. The investment is changing the face of the region - economically, socially, and politically - and making it a critical link in global supply chains. Our analysis shows that the current wave of growth will continue for at least the next four years.
